

It is a means of enabling GPs and other frontline healthcare professionals to refer patients to a link worker.

This provides patients with additional support to improve their health and wellbeing.

